GREETING THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

Again we greet the Christmas Season. We all have witnessed the passing of another year. In many ways it has been a year unlike what the present generation has experienced the past ten years. We have had other years when more people could enjoy the spirit of the season than will be possible this year but there should be nothing to hinder spreading cheer among those in need. Words convey sentiment but only by your actions in a helping way can you enter into the true teaching of the Christmas Season. Let us hope there can be happiness in every home. The Herald extends to its family of readers and patrons greetings for a Merry Christmas and a brighter, happier and prosperous New Year.

DEPOSITOR'S MONEY WORTH LITTLE

A depositor in one of the Washington C. H. banks is so dissatisfied with the manner O. C. Gray is operating the State Bank Department, a letter of protest was written to the Ohio State Journal. In it the statement was made that costs to depositors in the settlement of the two defunct banks now has reached $15,000, and the end is not in sight. The editor of the Journal comments on the letter with a statement from Mr. Gray, who justifies the cost thus far.

This will be unpleasant news to several thousand depositors of the two wrecked institutions that has upset the private and public financial structure in that county. The depositors evidently had no protection through Mr. Gray's department before the closing of the banks, and indications are not encouraging at this time that the salvage will be worth more than the cost of administration.

CRESWELL HURDLES ALL HANDICAPS

The Herald voices the sentiment of the great majority of people in this county in extending congratulations to Paul H. Creswell, who soon becomes United States Marshal for the Southern District in Ohio, with headquarters in Cincinnati. The nomination sent to the Senate by President Hoover, was confirmed last Saturday and he will enter upon his duties the first of the year.

The appointment is one highly to be prized and one of the best federal plums in the district and those who are acquainted with Mr. Creswell know he will serve the government with honor and distinction. He was the outstanding candidate from the beginning but his appointment was not accomplished until many handicaps were hurdled.

He was strongly opposed by the Cincinnati gang politicians, the Cooper state machine and the Daugherty-Pemberton element in the Seventh Congressional district. His last opposition naturally had to come from his own county from a woman's organization that poses as interested in prohibition. It so happened that this same element has figured in politics in the county in past years but the influence in Washington as a protest to Mr. Creswell's appointment, had about as little weight as it does in this county in things political, especially when the voters learn just where the guiding hand comes from. The Senate spurned the action of the feminine politicians and gave its approval to the President's nomination.

EVERYBODY HEDGING ON TAX ISSUE

We read with some amusement the discussion of the proposed change in Ohio tax laws under the classification plan as adopted by the electors a year ago.

Previous to that election farm and home owners were appealed to in behalf of classification that it would reduce the tax burden on real estate. Various organizations sponsored the change no doubt in the best of faith. The other side of the tax discussion now is that probably farm land and home owners can expect little relief. What has become of all the schemes proposed to catch hidden property for tax purposes?

Income tax has been proposed as well as a sales tax. Both are meeting strong opposition. Business men do not care to become a collection agency for Ohio tax spenders. Those supporting income tax say farmers will not be compelled to pay the tax as their income is not near the limitation for exemption. It may not be now but if prices ever improve on farm products the farmer will be caught. It is an old trick being put over on farmers at a time when income is something almost unknown.

City people, where hundreds of thousands live on a salary and could have little for exemption or deduction, naturally would be caught for ninety-five per cent of the tax raised. Thus income tax does not suit the city dweller.

Manufacturers and merchants of course do not want it and it is hinted that prices of goods must be increased or wages paid labor and clerks must be reduced. Meantime everyone seems to be trying his best to find some new way to raise more taxes but no one suggests a reduction in the cost of state government.

Important Questions

Prohibition Illegal?

Sewed in a Bear Skin

Strange Motions

Let those that torment themselves with foolish fears, and permit their fears to interfere with business and the return of prosperity, ask themselves these questions:

Have we not had depressions before? Did we not then think that the end of the world was coming? Did not men go about shaking their heads, saying:

"Yes, but this is a different kind of depression; we never had anything like this."

Those that have been in business a reasonable length of time recall the head-shaking, meaning and groaning of 1907.

Have we not had good times since 1907? Didn't business "pick up"? To put it mildly, after 1907? Haven't we since then added hundreds of billions to the country's wealth?

And haven't we got everything now that we ever had?

Could anything be more stupid than talk and action of a kind harmful to business, to banks and other institutions upon which the prosperity of us all and every man's employment depend absolutely?

The country discusses the decision of Federal Judge William T. Clark, who says that prohibition isn't legal because the people didn't pass on it. Judge Clark is interesting to millions of men and women, although they may not know it, for he is one of the famous O. N. T. Clark thread family.

Judge Clark's decision that prohibition isn't legal will be reversed by the Supreme court, probably.

Everything is comparative, even sorrow. The head of a great bank in New York tells of a client "with the saddest face I have ever seen in my life."

One year ago this client was worth at least sixty millions of dollars. And today his fortune is reduced to not more than twenty million dollars. "And you can't imagine," said the banker, "how that man suffers."

Ivan the Terrible, czar of Russia, so subdued those that oppose him, intended queer punishments.

On one occasion he had a bishop sewed up in a bear skin, and the bishop, in his bear skin, thrown to a pack of half-starved dogs.

The bishop suffered horribly, of course, but only for a few minutes. His total suffering amounted to far less than the sufferings of some that have seen their fortunes and the results of their life work gradually taken from them, bit by bit, during the past year.

Harvard sends reassuring news about this grand old earth, on which men have lived, according to Professor Osborne, for forty million years; and on which geologists, physicists, astronomers, tell us we shall continue to live for at least a million million years more.

Our strange rolling domicile is one with many motions. We all know that it turns around on its axis, rolls around the sun in 365 days, and is traveling through space accompanying the sun on its journey. But most of us forget about the many other motions of the earth.

We are glad to learn from Harvard that a "recent mysterious shaking of the earth's crust was a movement back and forth, rhythmical and regular, six seconds to each swing."

And while the earth's crust does move, it moves only two ten-thousandths of an inch in either direction, the motion continuing for many days.

We should be very grateful that little human microbes can be safe on this whirling globe, twenty-five thousand miles around, as heavy as though it were made of solid steel, with hot fire under our feet, and absolute zero, more than 400 degrees below freezing, all around us.

Mr. Cutter, president of the United Fruit company, says that we did a business last year with Latin-America of more than two thousand million dollars, whereas we ought to be doing a business of ten thousand million dollars.

In the Caribbean countries, says Mr. Cutter, we reach fewer than 20 per cent of the possible customers. American business men, with the Department of Commerce leading, should look into that ten billion dollar possibility. We need the business.

France has banking troubles and deals with doubtful bankers in a drastic fashion. Thirty-five French bankers are in jail, and 185 under government investigation.

Germany has found a way to make danger signals plain even for the color blind. Drivers approaching a railroad track need not know the difference between white and red. The warning comes in flashes. While the way is clear a white light flashes forty times a minute. When a train approaches a red light is turned on the flashes eighty times to the minute. The train automatically switches the red and white lights on and off.

REVIEW: THE PATTERN OF CHRISTIAN LIVING

GOLDEN TEXT—Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How Jesus Wants Us to Live.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Some Examples of Christian Living.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Lessons from the Lives of Others.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Following the Christ.

For senior and adult classes two good methods of review may be used: The first may be designated character study of the principal persons mentioned in the lessons of the quarter; namely, Zacharias and Elizabeth, Mary, Simeon and Anna, Peter, Thomas, Zacchaeus, Stephen, Saul, and Timothy. In using this method assignment should be made the week before. The second method may be designated the summary method in which the salient facts should be noted followed with the leading teaching. In this case also, assignment should be made a week ahead.

Lesson for October 5. The parents of John the Baptist were noted for their godliness. Zacharias means "remembered by God." Elizabeth means "covenant maker." Every indication is that this pious couple wrought together for God. John the Baptist was a great man. Much can be expected of a child born of such parents and brought up in such a home.

Lesson for October 12. God chose Mary to receive the greatest honor ever conferred upon a human being. To fill this place of honor meant exposure to suspicion as well as much suffering and hardship.

Lesson for October 19. The ability of Simeon and Anna to discern the Messiah was due to a special revelation of the indwelling Holy Spirit, not merely because they were pure in heart. The grace which they possessed is available to every believer.

Lesson for October 26. The believer experiences a vital conflict going on within. This conflict is due to the fact that he was once born of the flesh and afterward born of the Spirit. Victory over the flesh is to be obtained through the power of the indwelling Holy Spirit.

Lesson for November 2. Peter, through over-weening confidence fell, even denying his Lord. The occasion of his denial was the sitting to which Satan subjected him. Through the prayer of Jesus Christ he was restored.

Lesson for November 9. Thomas is everywhere presented in the Scriptures as of a skeptical mind but he was an honest doubter. The Lord is pleased to be put to the test. No honest skeptic has ever remained in darkness.

Lesson for November 16. The centurion's faith in Christ brought healing to a very dear servant. Genuine faith links man with Omnipotence.

Lesson for November 23. A noble young ruler failed to get eternal life because his heart rested on earthly riches. Christ demands man's whole heart.

Lesson for November 30. Zachaeus did not allow difficulties to keep him from seeing the Lord. The sight of the Lord moved him to repentance. This is always true. He proved the genuineness of his repentance by making restitution.

Lesson for December 7. Stephen, while called to minister in the temporalities of the church, witnessed of Christ in the energy of the Holy Spirit. He sealed his testimony with his blood. To those who are faithful unto death a crown of life shall be given.

Lesson for December 14. The sight of Jesus Christ transformed Saul, the savage persecutor, into a most ardent witness for Christ.

Lesson for December 21. Through the faith of a godly mother and grandmother, Timothy was nurtured for God. Careful home training is rewarded with pious children.

In Communion With God As long as we dare to think that the secular life must be a separate existence from the spiritual, that earthly engagements cannot be fulfilled in uninterrupted communion with God, just so long are we living outside the purposes of God, contradicting the majesty of our true nature, and denying the efficacy of the gospel of the Lord Jesus.—Frederick H. W. Webb, Episcop.

The Faith in God's Elect Neither fear, neither danger, neither yet doubting, nor backsliding can utterly destroy and quench the faith of God's elect, but that always there remaineth with them some root and spark of faith, howbeit in their anguish they neither feel nor can discern the same.—John Knox.

Victory Victory over sleep in the morning watch may mean victory all day.—Lee.

The gross cash income of Ohio farmers for the first 11 months in 1930 was 20 per cent less than in 1929.

Sure Way to Stop Night Coughs

Famous Prescription Brings Almost Instant Relief

Night coughs, or coughs caused by a cold or irritated throat, can now be stopped within 15 minutes by a doctor's prescription called Thoxine which works on an entirely different principle from ordinary medicines. It has a quick double action, it relieves the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause.

Thoxine contains no harmful drugs, is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Guaranteed to give better and quicker relief for coughs or sore throats than anything you have ever tried or you can have your money back. 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Richard's Drug Store and all other good drug stores.

Undrained areas, though small, sap the fertility of the soil in the drained areas. Sometimes a single line of tile, costing no more, than the profits from the first season's crops, will drain such an area.

A run-down, emaciated condition in sheep, a lack of color in the skin and mucous membranes, and often the development of scours and diarrhea, are all symptoms indicating the presence of intestinal parasites.

Machines have been developed with which it is possible to move trees 35 to 50 feet high. Trees 100 feet high have been successfully moved.

Grows Early Truck Crops With Hotbeds

Plant Growing Structures Help Produce Vegetables To Meet Early Market Demands

Early maturity of several vegetable crops grown for the early market may be obtained with the use of coldframes or hotbeds, says E. B. Tussing, extension specialist in vegetable gardening at the Ohio State University.

Hotbed and coldframe structures, he points out, are best located conveniently for the workmen, near a good supply of water, and sheltered by a windbreak. Such structures need to be located where they will receive the maximum amount of sunshine in the early season. A well drained site is necessary.

Glass or muslin covers are frequently used on hotbeds and coldframes, he states. But during extremely cold weather it is best to provide additional protection by using rye straw mats, burlap, or loose straw. Glass covers are the most durable and if properly cared for will last from 20 to 25 years. Muslin covers, according to Tussing, are used extensively on coldframes late in the season when the weather has moderated. A good heavy grade of manure should be used and it needs to be large enough to provide an overlap of from 6 to 12 inches on all sides.

For the surface and pit type of hotbeds a good source of heat is fermenting manure. Fresh, strawy, moistened manure is piled near the hotbeds for a few days before they are started. Fermentation usually starts at once and in a few days the manure will be ready to place in the hotbeds.

If the manure is to be used for surface hotbeds, he declares, it should be placed in piles from 10 to 14 inches deep and 2 feet wider than the hotbed frame. If the manure is placed on the pile in thin layers and tramped evenly, it will furnish a moderate supply of heat for a long time, but the loosely tramped pile of manure produces higher temperatures for shorter periods.

Where a pit hotbed is built, much less manure is required. Pit hotbeds are prepared by excavating the soil to a depth of 18 to 24 inches. The pit is slightly larger than the frame of the hotbed and it is well drained. Manure is packed in the pit in thin layers until the manure is 12 to 18 inches deep. Special precaution is taken to see that the corners are well tamped.
